Common Questions

FAQs

TEXAS
Health and Human Services

Question:

How do I obtain a new contract?

Application packets can be found on our agency website along with instructions on how to fill out the forms by going to our “Doing Business with HHS” page and navigating through our “Provider Portals” to find the type of contract you are interested in. Hyperlinks are embedded throughout the website to help you navigate to the various forms and checklists.

Question:

What is the difference between a provisional and standard contract?

All initial open enrollment contracts are considered provisional and are good for 30 months. A provisional contract has stated term date. Once a Provider has been found in good standing during the provisional contracting period a standard contract can be issued. Standard contracts are issued for a 5-year term.

Question:

I submitted my open enrollment application, what should I expect next?

Applicants are reviewed in the order they are received. Those Providers who desire to become HCS/TxHmL Providers must attend the Provider Applicant Training and pass the exam given during this training with a score of 85% or better. Applicants with scores below 85% are required to repeat the application process.

Medicaid enrollment/revalidation is now processed through TMHP using the Provider Enrollment Management System (PEMS). For additional information, please see the following links:

Question:

My application was denied, can I reapply?

In most situations, Yes. If your application has been denied you will be required to submit a new application. Please note the reason for denial and ensure that your packet has been corrected of all issue. Do not re-submit the previously denied paperwork.

Question:

What type of license is required to obtain a contract with HHSC?

An HCSSA license is required for Hospice, CLASS and DBMD. For HCS and TxHmL, an HCSAA license is not required, however the designated program manager for the Provider MUST attend and pass the Provider Applicant Training exam with a score of 85% or higher.

Question:

How do I get individuals to choose me as their Provider?

For HCS and TxHmL programs, the Local Intellectual and Developmental Disability Authority provides a list of Providers to consumers. For CLASS and DBMD, a Choice List is provided once the consumer is off the interest list.

Question:

I am not showing up on the Provider's Choice List, who do I contact?

Please contact your Contract Manager identified on your award letter or email LTCSearch@hhsc.state.tx.us

Question:

I need to make some Contract changes? What do I do?

Most Contract changes, such as expanding service areas, or changing the number of individuals served (CAP) can be submitted in writing via email by an authorized signature authority to the following address:
IDDwaivercontractenrollment@hhsc.state.tx.us

Question:

What if I need to change my legal entity or have a change in ownership Working with your Contract Manager, these types of changes have specific timeframes which are required for notification. Be sure to review Texas Administrative Code Section 49 for detailed guidance. These types of changes may also impact your license, certification and other requirements in addition to Contract changes.

Question:

If I acquire an existing Provider's assets through a Change of Ownership, do the clients also transfer?

No. Individuals must be given a choice for providers. This may result in some clients choosing to have services provided by you or be served in another capacity.
